LUX PRIME KITCHEN

Magazine

OCTOBER 2026 · ISSUE 1

Prepared for Alex

01 Roasted Squash Velouté with Sage Butter

02 Pan-Roasted Duck Breast with Spiced Squash Purée

03 Spiced Squash and Maple Tartlet

Three personal recipes · Your shopping list · Wines to match · A note from Escoffier

Composed for you by Malcolm AI, grounded in Escoffier's Le Guide Culinaire (1907)

A LETTER FROM THE CHEF

From Malcolm's kitchen

Dear Alex,

Welcome to your October issue. We are in deep autumn, rich with mushrooms and squash, and I have composed this month's menu with you in mind.

Your kitchen story is only beginning, so this first issue leans on the season. Every search you make and every recipe you save teaches me more, and next month's issue will be shaped around you.

This month: Roasted Squash Velouté with Sage Butter, Pan-Roasted Duck Breast with Spiced Squash Purée and Spiced Squash and Maple Tartlet. Your shopping list is overleaf, grouped by aisle, with a few gentle reminders of things you may be running low on.

May the golden warmth of the autumn harvest awaken the divine spark within your kitchen.

Cook with joy, taste as you go, and let the season lead.

Malcolm

EXECUTIVE AI CHEF, LUX PRIME KITCHEN

IN THIS ISSUE

01 · PAGE 3
Roasted Squash Velouté with Sage Butter

02 · PAGE 4
Pan-Roasted Duck Breast with Spiced Squash Purée

03 · PAGE 5
Spiced Squash and Maple Tartlet

Your shopping list 6

Wines & accompaniments 7

The Escoffier note 7

01

AI-GENERATED ILLUSTRATION

Roasted Squash Velouté with Sage Butter

A velvety whisper of autumn sweetness crowned with crisp herb butter.

30 MIN · EASY · SERVES 2 · ESCOFFIER-INSPIRED

A October dish chosen to introduce you to the magazine — your next issues learn from every search.

INGREDIENTS

- 500 g butternut squash, peeled and cubed
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 600 ml vegetable or chicken stock
- 30 g butter
- 6 leaves fresh sage leaves
- 50 ml double cream (optional)

METHOD

1. Toss the squash cubes in a little oil, salt, and pepper, then roast at 200°C for 25 minutes until tender and caramelized at the edges.
2. In a saucepan, gently sweat the chopped onion in 15g of butter until translucent and soft.
3. Add the roasted squash and stock to the pan, bring to a simmer, and cook for 10 minutes.
4. Blend the mixture until completely smooth and velvety, stirring in the cream if desired.
5. In a separate small pan, crisp the sage leaves in the remaining 15g of butter until fragrant, then drizzle over the soup just before serving.

CHEF'S SECRET

Ensure your purée is blended while piping hot to achieve a perfectly smooth emulsion without needing excess thickeners.

TO DRINK

A crisp glass of dry cider or lightly oaked Chardonnay.

Alcohol-free: Sparkling water with cucumber and mint

ALONGSIDE

Crisp roast potatoes and a bitter-leaf salad

Pan-Roasted Duck Breast with Spiced Squash Purée

Rich, succulent poultry paired with a silken, spiced autumn fruitfulness.

45 MIN · MEDIUM · SERVES 2 · ESCOFFIER-INSPIRED

A October dish chosen to introduce you to the magazine — your next issues learn from every search.

INGREDIENTS

- 2 duck breasts
- 400 g butternut squash, cubed
- 100 ml orange juice
- 150 ml brown stock
- 20 g butter
- 1 pinch ground cinnamon (optional)

METHOD

1. Score the duck skin in a crosshatch pattern, season generously with salt and pepper, and place skin-side down in a cold frying pan.
2. Turn the heat to medium and render the fat slowly for 12 to 15 minutes until the skin is golden and crisp; turn and cook for 3 minutes on the flesh side, then rest.
3. Meanwhile, boil or steam the squash cubes until very tender, then blend with a knob of butter and a pinch of cinnamon until smooth.
4. In the duck pan, pour off excess fat, add the orange juice and brown stock, scraping up any pan bits, and reduce until glossy.
5. Slice the rested duck breast and serve atop the warm squash purée, nattily napped with the reduced citrus-stock sauce.

CHEF'S SECRET

Always start duck breasts in a cold pan to render the fat thoroughly before the skin browns too quickly.

TO DRINK

A glass of mature Pinot Noir.

Alcohol-free: Sparkling elderflower or a dry alcohol-free red

ALONGSIDE

Crisp roast potatoes and a bitter-leaf salad

Inspired by Escoffier, Le Guide Culinaire (1907), No. 1750: Caneton Braisé a L'orange

Spiced Squash and Maple Tartlet

A golden pastry shell cradling spiced custard and caramelised autumn warmth.

45 MIN · MEDIUM · SERVES 2 · ESCOFFIER-INSPIRED

A October dish chosen to introduce you to the magazine — your next issues learn from every search.

INGREDIENTS

- 1 sheet ready-rolled shortcrust pastry
- 200 g squash purée
- 40 ml maple syrup
- 1 egg
- 50 ml double cream
- 0.5 tsp mixed spice

METHOD

1. Preheat the oven to 190°C and line two small tart tins with the shortcrust pastry, blind baking with paper and weights for 12 minutes.
2. In a bowl, whisk together the squash purée, maple syrup, egg, double cream, and mixed spice until uniform.
3. Pour the spiced custard filling into the par-baked pastry cases.
4. Bake for 20 to 25 minutes until the filling is just set with a gentle wobble in the center.
5. Allow to cool slightly before serving warm, perhaps with a dollop of crème fraîche.

CHEF'S SECRET

Blind bake your pastry until the edges are lightly golden to prevent a soggy bottom from the moist squash filling.

TO DRINK

A late-harvest dessert wine or spiced chai tea.

Alcohol-free: Chilled spiced apple juice

ALONGSIDE

A spoon of crème fraîche and a small strong coffee

FOR THE MARKET

Your shopping list

Everything for all three recipes, grouped by aisle. Your regulars come first in each aisle, marked with a gold bar. Numbers show which recipe needs it.

FRUIT & VEGETABLES

☐ Butternut squash	500g + 400g	01 02
☐ Onion		01
☐ Orange juice	100ml	02
☐ Squash purée	200g	03

FRESH HERBS

☐ Fresh sage leaves		01

MEAT & POULTRY

☐ Duck breasts	2	02

DAIRY & EGGS

☐ Butter	30g + 20g	01 02
☐ Double cream	50ml + 50ml	01 03
☐ Egg	1	03

BAKERY

☐ Sheet ready-rolled shortcrust pastry		03

SPICES & SEASONINGS

☐ Ground cinnamon	1 pinch	02
☐ Mixed spice	0.5tsp	03

TINS, JARS & SAUCES

☐ Brown stock	150ml	02
☐ Maple syrup	40ml	03

OTHER

☐ Vegetable	600ml	01

YOU MAY BE RUNNING LOW ON

Nothing stands out yet — as your history grows, Malcolm will suggest staples you may need to top up.

ASSUMED IN YOUR CUPBOARD

Salt, pepper and oil.

Suggestions only — we can't see your cupboards.

TO THE TABLE

Wines & accompaniments

Roasted Squash Velouté with Sage Butter

Wine: A crisp glass of dry cider or lightly oaked Chardonnay.

Or: Oaked Chardonnay (Burgundy, Mâconnais) or a dry Chenin Blanc

Alongside: Crisp roast potatoes and a bitter-leaf salad. Alcohol-free: Sparkling water with cucumber and mint.

Pan-Roasted Duck Breast with Spiced Squash Purée

Wine: A glass of mature Pinot Noir.

Or: Red Burgundy (Pinot Noir) or a Northern Rhône Syrah

Alongside: Crisp roast potatoes and a bitter-leaf salad. Alcohol-free: Sparkling elderflower or a dry alcohol-free red.

Spiced Squash and Maple Tartlet

Wine: A late-harvest dessert wine or spiced chai tea.

Or: Sweet Loire Chenin Blanc (Coteaux du Layon) or a late-harvest Riesling

Alongside: A spoon of crème fraîche and a small strong coffee. Alcohol-free: Chilled spiced apple juice.

THE ESCOFFIER NOTE

> This braised duckling must not be confused with roast duckling, which is also served "a l'orange," for the two dishes are quite distinct. As in the case of the roast, this duckling may be prepared with Seville oranges; but, in this case, the sections of orange must not appear as garnish, owing to their bitterness, and only the juice is used for the sauce. Braise the duckling …
>
> AUGUSTE ESCOFFIER, LE GUIDE CULINAIRE (1907), No. 1750 — CANETON BRAISÉ A L'ORANGE

Our Pan-Roasted Duck Breast with Spiced Squash Purée takes its cue from this classic, adapted for a modern home kitchen. Balance and restraint were Escoffier's signatures: season boldly, garnish lightly, and serve promptly.

Photographs are AI-generated illustrations. Nutrition is estimated. Allergen tags are guidance only — always check product labels, and adapt to your own dietary needs. Wine suggestions are styles, not endorsements; please drink responsibly (18+).

You receive this because you opted in to Lux Prime Kitchen Magazine. Manage, pause or cancel any time: https://luxprime-ai-chef.oliverluxthorley.workers.dev/account.html#magazine